ABOUT THE CLINICIAN

Conrad Trow, CJF

A native of Durban, South Africa, Conrad attended Kentucky Horseshoeing School in 1996 and returned home to Durban to start his farrier practice. After some years at home, Conrad returned to the KHS in 1999 to apprentice under Mitch Taylor.

Conrad has since established himself among the best of the best in horseshoeing in the United States. Along with his successful private farrier business, Conrad has been a member of the American Farriers Association National Horseshoeing Team, where he has won gold both nationally and internationally in horseshoeing competitions.

Conrad was also a member of the 2007 American Farriers Association 4-man World Draft Horse Team which won at the Calgary Stampede in Canada.

In addition, he was part of the 2-Man Draft Horse Championship team which won at the AFA Convention in 2003, 2004, 2005 and 2006. He also holds a diploma with The Worshipful Company of Farriers.
